

Privacy Policy

Collected Information

We collect information that is needed for the registration procedure at our website. The information that we collected are voluntarily submitted by the customers to us.

Personal Identification details

Your personal identification details are used to process your order, customised your profile information, update your status of online shopping and also to update you with our latest news, promotion and events.

Confidentially

Your personal information such as credit card details, bank account numbers will be kept secret and confidential with us. We will never share any of your personal contents without giving prior notice to our customer.

Security

We will apply appropriate security application in order to mitigate the possible leaking of customer's personal identification details from third parties, illegal disclosure and hackers. However, kindly bear in mind that information transmitted through internet is not 100% guaranteed safe and secure.